

TAX AMNESTY

from the
Rhode Island Division of Taxation

START DATE: 12/01/2017

END DATE: 02/15/2018

Pay what you owe in delinquent state taxes during Rhode Island’s state tax amnesty and you can save money.

If you file all of the required paperwork (see our website for details), pay the required amount, and you qualify, we will:

- ◆ Waive penalties
- ◆ Reduce your interest
- ◆ Waive civil prosecution
- ◆ Waive criminal prosecution

Amnesty restrictions apply.
Contact us to obtain additional information:

Rhode Island Division of Taxation

One Capitol Hill
Providence
Rhode Island 02908
Phone: (401) 574-8650

If you are delinquent on any type of Rhode Island state tax ~ such as personal income tax, corporate tax, sales tax, use tax, or employer withholding tax ~ now’s the time to pay up.

Rhode Island is holding a tax amnesty. It runs from December 1, 2017, through February 15, 2018. All you have to do is file the required paperwork (see our website for details) and make your payment ~ we’ll take care of the rest.

Assuming you qualify, you’ll no longer be delinquent on your taxes. We’ll waive penalties and reduce interest. We won’t block you from renewing your driver’s license or professional license. And you’ll sleep easier.

Tax Amnesty: Pay less now - or pay more later

Call (401) 574-8650 www.TaxAmnesty.ri.gov